

HAMBURGER LLOYD

Hamburger Lloyd has been managing and servicing container ships, tankers and bulk carriers for 18 years and is a highly respected service provider for technical ship management.

For our growing fleet we are looking for a

Superintendent (m/f/d)
(Technical Manager)

who can handle all technical aspects as well as the commercial side of the business.

Your tasks and responsibilities are not limited to the overall technical management of the assigned ships. Regular visits on board and dry docks require your flexibility and willingness to travel internationally.

Your experience in a similar position and many years of experience as Chief Engineer or 2nd Engineer will enable you to manage, plan and supervise all technical and commercial aspects of the assigned fleet.

Your sound knowledge of class rules, ISM, ISO regulations and your good communication skills in English and (preferably) German will enable you to communicate and negotiate with class and flag state authorities, customers and business partners.

We look forward to receiving your application with CV and your salary expectation by e-mail to bod@hamburger-loyd.de
